

Seven Days

Words and Music by Jane Mitchell

As there is dark let there be light
Call it day, and call it night.
Let the heavens be up high,
Sea below, between them sky.
“Ah, it is good,” said the Lord.
“Ah, it is good,” said the Lord.

Land and sea shall have their place
Plants and trees proliferate.
Moon and stars shall own the night
The sun will make the days be bright
“Ah, it is good,” said the Lord.
“Ah, it is good,” said the Lord.

Fish will swim and birds take flight
Animals with grace and might
Above them all my steward Man
Completing this almighty plan
“Ah, it is good,” said the Lord.
“Ah, it is good,” said the Lord.

Bless this work from sea to sky
May all my creatures multiply
I’ve given all, I’ve done my best
And on this seventh day I’ll rest.
“Ah, it is good,” said the Lord.
“Ah, it is good,” said the Lord.
