

Zacchaeus Come Down

Words and Music by Jane Mitchell

There was a man in Jericho,
Zacchaeus was his name
His friends were few,
but little he cared,
His job, it was to blame.
Collecting tax for the Roman Boss,
he cheated as he went,
but Jesus came to town one day
and taught him to repent.

Zacchaeus who was small in size climbed a Sycamore tree.
Hiding in the leafy top,
the Lord he hoped to see.

Jesus came and raised his eyes
to where Zacchaeus lay,
He called to him,
“Zacchaeus come down,
you are saved this day.”

Zacchaeus come down!

I’m supping with you!

Zacchaeus come down,
here’s what you must do!

Zacchaeus come down!

Sins I forgive!

Zacchaeus come down.

Zacchaeus joyfully exclaimed,
“I am saved this day!

To all the people I have wronged,
money I'll repay."

Jesus came to save us all,
to show us all the way.
If we listen and believe,
We will hear him say:

"Please come on down!
I'm talking to you!
Please come on down!
Here's what you must do.

Please come on down, I will forgive.

Please come on down...
Please come on down!"
