

In The Morning

Music and lyrics by Drew Lane. (C) 2014, Andrew Lane.

We have stared at the stars in the sky
We have wiped all tears from our eyes
As the moon starts to get in the West
We know the Truth will rise again
We know the Truth will rise again

*In the morning love will reign
In the morning, death will be defeated
In the morning, no more pain
In the morning, Jesus will live again*

See the scars in the palms of His hands
See the holes from the nails in His feet
See the light in His eyes when He says
I'm with you 'til the end of days!
I'm with you 'til the end of days!

Repeat Chorus

Let us all raise our eyes to the Son
Let us all lift our voices as one
Let us all give the praise in our breath
For dying He destroyed our death!
For dying He destroyed our death!

Repeat Chorus x2
